

COBWEB HOUSELEEK

SEMPERVIVUM ARACHNOIDEUM

THIS TEXTURAL BEAUTY IS AN ASSET TO ANY ROCK GARDEN. FAMOUS FOR ITS DROUGHT TOLERANCE AND ABILITY TO GROW IN VERY LITTLE SOIL (IN THE CRACKS OF ROCK WALLS, FOR EXAMPLE) COBWEB HOUSELEEK FORMS A MAT OF SMALL EVERGREEN ROSETTES, EACH ADORNED WITH DELICATE THREADS SPANNING ACROSS ITS FACE. THE "HENS" FORM MANY "CHICKS", SPREADING THE PLANT EVER WIDER.

ALBETH RATHER SLOWLY. AS IF THE DELIGHTFUL TEXTURE OF THE PLANT'S ROSETTES ALONE WEREN'T REASON ENOUGH TO GROW IT, STARRY PINK FLOWERS APPEAR ON 4" STALKS AS A SUMMER TREAT, ADDING AN ASPECT OF DELICACY TO THE HOUSELEEK'S STURDY NATURE
